The Trustees unanimously resolved to recommend Government to extend the services of the Chairman

The Trustees unanimously voted to place on record that the recommendation would have been made by them at the time they recommended the grant to the Chairman of the above-mentioned leave, had they at that time been made aware that his present agreement terminated on the 17th November 1927.

The Chairman then resumed the chair and on being made aware of the Trustees' Resolution, expressed himself as agreeable to their proposal.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The object of this Bill is to continue certain provisions of the Indian Finance Act, 1924, which would otherwise cease to have effect from the 1st April 1927, to make certain changes in the Schedule to the Indian Tariff Act, 1914, and to abolish the stamp duty on cheques and other bills of exchange payable on demand.

2. Clauses 2, 3 and 7 provide for the continuance of the rates of salt duty, postage, income-tax and super-tax prescribed by the Indian Finance Act, 1924, while clause 8 provides for the credit to revenue for a further period of one year, i.e., till the 31st March 1928, of interest on advances forming part of the Paper Currency Reserve.

3. Clause 4 gives effect to the following changes:—

- (a) The abolition of the import duty on rubber stamps and rubber seals.
- (b) The increase of the import duty on unmanufactured tobacco from Rs. 1 to Rs. 1-6-0 per pound.
- (c) The reduction of the export duty on molasses, etc., from 10 per cent to 20 per cent ad valorem, and the reduction of duty on tyres and tubes from 30 per cent to 15 per cent ad valorem.
- (d) The abolition of the export duty on tea and hides.

The collection of rubber stamps and rubber seals imported into India from the payment of import duty has been very strongly urged by the Government of Burma in order to afford every possible encouragement to a salient industry in Burma. Encouragement will not result in any appreciable loss of revenue.

The import duty on cigarettes was fixed in 1914 at Rs. 7 per thousand, if the value does not exceed Rs. 10-0-0 per thousand, and at Rs. 10-5-0 per thousand, if the value exceeds Rs. 10-0-0. These rates of duty for the two classes of cigarette are equivalent to

Rs. 2-12-6 and Rs. 4-0-0 per pound, respectively. But the import duty on manufactured tobacco is only Rs. 1 per pound. It is proposed that the duty on manufactured tobacco should be raised from Rs. 1 to Rs. 2-0-0 per pound. This increase is expected to yield an additional revenue of Rs. 10 lakhs, which should cover the loss of revenue which would result from the proposed reduction of import duty on motor cars and tyres and the abolition of the export duty on hides.

The reduction of the import duty on motor cars and tyres was suggested by the Taxation Enquiry Committee, on the ground that, though the existing duties were part of an protection of revenue, a lower duty would substantially encourage the development of motor transport in India. The reduced scale of duties will also afford Provincial Governments and local authorities an opportunity to lay taxation to be devoted to the improvement of roads. It is anticipated that the loss in Customs revenue on the reduced scale of duty will not exceed Rs. 10 lakhs, the allowance being made for increased importations.

The export duty on hides was originally imposed in September, 1918, in the interests of the Indian leather industry, but for various reasons the duty has failed in its purpose. The Taxation Enquiry Committee have by a majority recommended early abolition, as in their opinion, the duty is wrong in principle, a view which was shared by the Fiscal Commission.

The abolition of the export duty on tea was suggested by the Fiscal Commission. The Taxation Enquiry Committee came to the conclusion "that the duty is one which may continue for the present, but it should be expected to be reduced, if not when the conditions of the trade indicate that it is having a prejudicial effect". The duty is, however, wrong in principle, and it is, therefore, proposed to abolish it and to compensate the loss in revenue by closing the present limits of assessment to income tax of the profits of the tea industry. Tea companies are now assessed on only 25 per cent of their total profits, the remaining 75 per cent being regarded as agricultural income, and therefore not liable to income-tax. The proportions assigned to the agricultural and manufacturing operations of the trade were based on very imperfect data, and recent inquiries have shown that the proportions should be at least equal. It is, therefore, proposed that a rule should be made under section 28 of the Indian Income-tax Act, 1918, to provide that, if owing to the existence of a market for goods on the manufacturing profits can be separately ascertained, such profits should be assessed, and that otherwise they should be assessed to form 50 per cent of the entire net profit.

Neither the public revenue nor the tea industry as a whole will be appreciably affected by these proposals, but the substitution of a tax on the profits for the export duty will result in a more equitable distribution of the burden of taxation.

4. Section 7 gives effect to the recommendation of the Currency Commission that the stamp duty on cheques should be abolished in order to encourage the habit of banking. It is also proposed to abolish the duty on bills of exchange which are payable on demand.

and this Act shall not affect the validity, invalidity, effect or consequences of anything already done or suffered, or any right, title, obligation or liability already acquired, secured or incurred, or any remedy or proceeding in respect thereof, or any promise or discharge of or from any debt, penalty, obligation, liability, claim or demand or any indemnity already granted, or the proof of any past act or thing;

nor shall this Act affect any principle or rule of law, or established jurisdiction, form or course of pleading, practice or procedure, or existing usage, custom, privilege, restriction, exemption, office or appointment, notwithstanding that the same respectively may have been in any manner affirmed, recognised or derived by, in or from any enactment hereby repealed;

1903	1	The Chittagong and Tenet Regulations, 1903.	In section 4 of the schedule in the entry against the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, word "division,"

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The object of the Bill is to make necessary amendments of a formal nature in certain enactments and to repeal certain unnecessary enactments.

Reasons for the proposed amendments or repeals are explained as follows:—

*The Specific Relief Act, 1877 (I of 1877).—*The amendment is consequential on the amendment made by Act XI of 1922 whereby the High Court of Bangalore was included in section 4A.

*The Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898 (I of 1898).—*By reason of the addition of a ninth clause to subsection (1) of section 54 the word "and" occurring before the eighth clause is out of place.

The amendment in section 168 adds a reference to an appointment which has been repeated by the Indian Extinction Act, 1925.

In section 205 the authority for issuance of the Governor General in Council was removed by the Dissolution Act, 1926, the words "with the like sanction" are therefore now without meaning.

*The Justice Administration Act, 1924 (IX of 1924).—*High Courts of Judicature have now replaced the United Courts of the Punjab and Lower Burma.

*The Indian Registration Act, 1908 (XXV of 1908).—*The office of Commission Magistrate has not been retained in the Cantonments Act, 1924, and the remaining provisions of section 2 are carried by section 5.

*The Delhi Laws Act, 1925 (VII of 1925).—*The Punjab Alienation of Land Act, 1900, has been extended to the territory within the Province of Delhi by the Notification in the Mysore Department No. D. 424/79-Delhi, dated the 4th February 1925, the entry relating to the abovesmentioned Act in Schedule II is therefore now spent.

*The Cantonments Act, 1924 (II of 1924).—*The amendments in sections 41 and 42 are designed to make provision for cases in which the Officer Commanding the Division is himself, for the purposes of the Act, the Officer Commanding-in-Chief, the Command.

The amendment in section 547 is designed to effect the real object of that section which is merely that the Cantonment authority should have information of the occurrence of any substantial transaction relating to immovable property in the cantonment.

*The Judobery (Amendment) Act, 1924 (IX of 1924).—*The repeal of article 100 in section 11 corrects a drafting or clerical error.

*The Indian Revenue (Amendment) Act, 1925 (XX of 1925).—*The amendment is rendered necessary by the fact that in the year 1924 there was enacted another Act (XXVII of 1924) bearing the same short title.

*The Transfer of Property (Amendment) Act, 1926 (XXVII of 1926).—*The amendment in the definition of the word "alienated" is necessitated by a ruling of the High Court of Judicature at Allahabad to the effect that the present definition does not apply in the case of instruments effected before the passing of Act XXVII of 1926.

*The Chitabrey Moh Trusts Regulation, 1905 (I of 1905).—*The repeal in column 5 of the Schedule is consequential on the amendment made in section 18 by Regulation IV of 1925.

The remaining amendments are designed to apply to the Royal Air Force, which is now a separate branch of His Majesty's Forces and is governed by a separate Act of Parliament, certain provisions of law applicable to the case of the Land Forces.

S. R. DAS.

15th February 1927.

The following Bill was introduced in the Council of State on the 1st March 1927:—

Customs and Excise Bill No. 2 of 1927.

A Bill further to amend the Sea Customs Act, 1878, for a certain purpose.

Whereas it is expedient further to amend the Sea Customs Act, 1878, VIII of 1878 for the purpose hereinafter appearing: It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title

1. This Act may be called the Sea Customs (Amendment) Act, 1927.

Extent of amendment
Act No. VII of 1927.
Amendment of duty on goods on which duty is levied on quantity.

2. After section 34 of the Sea Customs Act, 1878 (hereinafter referred to as the said Act), the following section shall be inserted, namely:—

VIII of 1927

"34A. When the Customs-Collector is satisfied that any goods on which duties are levied on quantity and not on value, and which are of a kind to which the Governor General in Council has, by notification in the Gazette of India, declared that the provisions of this section shall apply, have before delivery of the bill of entry determined to the extent of more than one-tenth of their value, he may allow an abatement of duty proportionate to the extent of such determination."

Amendment of section 38, Act VIII of 1878

3. In section 38 of the said Act, for the word "damage" the words "any deterioration" shall be substituted, and after the words "loss," the words "and as provided by section 34A," shall be inserted.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Sea Customs Act, 1878 (VIII of 1878), allows a partial rebate of duty on goods which have deteriorated or been damaged prior to entry provided the duty is leviable on value, but the Act prohibits the making of a rebate where the duty is leviable on quantity and not on value.

When the Act was framed the number of such specific duties was small, but recently specific duties have been substituted in a number of instances for ad valorem duties, and the consequent withdrawal of the exemption in case of the articles affected, notably sugar and paper, has constituted an unduly harsh hardship. The object of this Bill is to give power to the Government to restore a rebate of specific duty proportionate to the deterioration in suitable cases.

The 22nd February 1927.
